Monday, 19 November 2007

The European Commission, European Parliament, Club of Rome, OECD and WWF will host a high-level conference in Brussels on November 19th and 20st with the objectives of clarifying which indices are most appropriate to measure progress, and how these can best be integrated into the decision-making process and taken up by public debate. The conference will bring together high-level experts and policy makers to address these critical issues. Over 500 people from economic, social and environmental spheres will attend.

Preceding the main political conference, an expert workshop will be held, where leading practitioners will consider progress in the development and policy application of indicators of progress, true wealth, and well-being. Pavle Sicherl prepared a contribution to the "Virtual Indicators Expo"™ of the Conference:
